In the current trends of the strategy of sustainable social development in general, and the education system in particular, there is an increasing need to solve in theory and practice the problem of civic institutional democratization, in particular, education systems and education governance and implementation of the idea of democratic social upbringing and education. The need to discuss this problem is due to a set of reasons. The most important of them is the direction of modern changes in society and education. Democratization of the system of institutions of society and systems of upbringing and education is a key task in many countries and involves not only the decentralization of education at the state level, but also the humanization of relations, democratization of governance at all levels of the system. The slogans of democratization were also proclaimed in Ukraine at the first stage of educational reform, but so far, they have not been fully transformed into educational practice. Moreover, difficulties in implementing democratic slogans have led to the slowdown and frustration of democratization, and sometimes to a conservative reaction. Democratization has been particularly difficult at the level of educational institutions.
